I agree strongly with Richard Blumenthal regarding the remedies which should be imposed in any Microsoft settlement. These should include remedies (1) to prohibit the illegal conduct and similar conduct in the future, (2) to spark competition in this industry; and (3) to deprive Microsoft of its illegal gains.

Please also consider the items listed in my previous correspondence as means to this end.

As a computer professional, I am willing to help in this matter in any way I can.

Thank you.
